based on my ASER survey experience

Our journey begins with a glimpse of dedicated volunteers in training, their determination shining through as they prepare to make a difference.

We traverse a rugged, winding road that leads us closer to the heart of the village, displaying the challenges and resilience of rural life.

Arriving in the village, we're captivated by the
vivacity of Ganesh
Utsav, where tradition
and celebration merge,
illuminating the spirit of the community.

Arriving in the village,
we're captivated by the
vivacity of Ganesh
and celebration merge,
of the community.

A colorful house stands as a vibrant testament to the artistic and cultural richness of the village, a visual feast amid rustic surroundings.

We savor the flavors of local cuisine, connecting with the community through food, a true cultural exploration of the region.

The laughter of village children fills the air, a reminder that joy and innocence are universal, transcending challenges and hardships.

Our journey concludes at a beautifully adorned village door, reflecting the warmth and unity that define these communities and their untold stories waiting to be discovered.

This photo walk takes us on an incredible journey through the ASER survey experience, revealing the essence of rural life, community, and the shared human experiences that unite us all.
